Minnesota-Talk by an Indian Chief-A Street Fight.

Correspondence of The Tribune.
St. Paul, Min. Ter Tuesday, Jan. 14. DEAR GREELEY: Since last writing you, I have had the satisfaction of listening to a harangue from Hole in the day, a young man who has sucsucceeded his father as Head Chief of the Chippewa nation. Young Hole-in-the-day is about twenty four or five years old, well formed, with a thoughtful and even melancholy expression of countenance. He is said to be exceedingly ambitious and utterly regardless of danger. Last Spring, merely to show his daring, he crossed the river a short distance above St. Paul, with but a single attendant, killed and scalped a Sioux almost within sight of one of their villages. Then, recrossing, he made but very little haste to re join his tribe, although pursued by a large body of Bjoux, whom he suffered to pass him, and while they were employed searching for him he took occasion to amuse himself by the war-dance. coeasion to amuse himself by the war-dance.

But this epistle is not the place for his history.

We are familiar with his face in St. Paul, but were somewhat surprised at the announcement that Hole in the day had engaged the largest church in the Territory, and would upon Tuesday evening address the Legislative Assembly and such other persons as chose to listen to him upon the wrongs and missions of his tribe. The house was crowded at an early hour, and the Chief, accompanied by an interpreter and one Indian atcompanied by an interpreter and one Indian at-tendant, marched up the aisle with dignity and took his place upon the rostrum, his attendant sitting in Indian fashion upon the floor by the side of his chair, and the Interpreter (Mr. Warren) in front and to the left of the Chief.

In compliance with the desire of the Chief, the formality of choosing a presiding officer was observed, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives (Mr. M. E. Ames) was selected. After an address to the "Great Spirit" by Rev. Mr. Neill, (also at the request of Hole in the day,) he arose, and letting his blanket fall from his shoulders, gathered it around his waste with his left band, and commenced his harangue in a constrained tone of voice, eviden by embarrassed by the number of ladies who sat immediately in front of him. But once or twice during the whole speech, him. But once or twice during the whole speech, which was of an hour and a half's duration, did he seem to speak with freedom or gesticulate with ease.

The speech was interpreted by Mr. Warren, paragraph by paragraph, as delivered. Mr. Warren is said to be the best interpreter acquainted with the language, but he did not see fit to translate verbatim the charges made against the Government officers, and his Majesty Hole in the day charges him with the misinterpretation in a card criment officers, and his Majesty Hole in the day charges him with the misinterpretation in a card which appeared in yeaterday's paper. You will find a very good report of the speach in the Chronicle and Register of Jan. 13. It looks somewhat belligerent upon paper, but settlers from the northern part of our Territory, who are well acquainted with the Chippewas, only laugh at the threats of the young Chief, and consider it an attempt to levy upon Uncle Samuel.

The Treaty for the Sioux lands on the west side of the Mississippi will be made next Summer—Old Sleepy-Eyes, the Head Chief of the Sissitor Sioux, held a talk with the Governor yesterday, and expressed a desire to sell out the lands of his band lying upon the St. Peters and its tributaries, and to receive annuities, as do the various bands.

and to receive annuities, as do the various bands and to receive annucles, as do the various bands upon the Mississippi. By this contemplated Treaty, Gov. Ramsay will probably obtain the most desirable country in the United States, if not in the world.

Yours truly,

Beaver.

P. S .- I open my letter to say that an affray has just now occurred, in which the Editor of The Pioneer, James M. Goodhue, has received two dangerous, probably fatal, stabs in the abdomenand Jos. Cooper is shot through the hip. The affray occurred in consequence of an abusive article which appeared in The Pioneer of yesterday in which Col. Mitchell and Judge Cooper are very bitterly denounced. The particulars of the affray I cannot yet learn.

Ground has been

Ground has been broken on another section of the Rochester and Niagara Road. This line, it is expected, will be completed by the 4th of July. Major Morrell, an experienced Engineer, writes thus in the Courier and Enquirer in relation to the Eric Road :

Recently there has been much said, in quarters interested in depreciating the value of Eric Rail road stock, in relation to a route through New Jersey and Pennsylvania, connecting with the New-York and Eric at some point on the Susquehanna, which shall shorten the distance from this city to the point of connection nearly one hundred miles. To those who know anything of the topography of the intervening country, it is needless to say, that the intervening country, it is needess to say, that no such route exists, and especially none by the route designated by these parties, as by that route an air line connecting points between which they claim that the greatest saving in distance is to be effected, is longer, by scores of miles, than set down by them. The truth is, there is no practicable route from this city to Lake Erie, connecting with the Eric Road, that can reduce the distance more than twenty miles, and all of these routes are to be constituted by a combination of a number of roads of higher grades than the N. York and Eric of roads of higher grades than the N. York and Erie and having a width of gauge unsuited to the New-York and Erie cars, and their management under several distinct corporations; while the New-York and Erie road will present a continuous track, of uniform guage, under one management—a difference more than sufficient to compensate, both in time and in money, for any saving that can possibly be effected in distance by the aggregation of the several roads that have been paraded before the public, to frighten the holders of the New-York and Erie stock and securities into a sacrifice of their property.

Trenton and intervening places and Philadelphia was $27,070 35, on which no transit duty is paid; the money received for freight on Railroad between the same places was $3,083 59. The sum of $120,000 was received from the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad, for the use of cars, locomotives, &c. The business of the Canal is minutely stated. There were transported on it last year 568,403 tuns and 911 lbs. of coal, (showing a falling off of 23,523 tuns, occasioned by the breaking of the Pennsylvania Canals,) nearly a million of cubic feet of timber, nearly six million feet of lumber, over half a million bushels of grain and feed, 77,651 barrels of corn, 20,781 tuns of iron, and of general merchandise over 100,000 tuns. The damage to the Canal and Feeder by the freshet last Summer will cost about $30,000 to repair. The revenue accruing to the State from transit duties from the Joint Companies for the year, was $96,566 174. The duty on passengers shows an increase of $6,256 97; on merchandize $1,715 17. The whole excess of revenue of 1850 over that of the highest former year is $14,244 47. The gross receipts for the year have fallen short of those of 1848, (which gave the largest amount,) in the sam of $40,570; yet the revenue to the State in 1850 was largely increased. This apparent anomaly is owing to the additional number of passengers whom low fares have induced to cross the State. In May, last, the Companies stated to the Stock holders that the earnings of the Canal and Hail holders that the earnings of the Canal and Rail road, since 1840, which had been added to the permanent capital, amounted to $833.995.25, for which they issued bonds to the Stockholders for $800,000, being twenty per cent. on the capital paid in, bearing six per cent interest and payable June 1, 1870. The balance is held subject to future direction.

The annual Report of the Fitchburg Railroad Company states that the total amount expended and charged to construction account to December 31, 1850, was $3,552,282 59. The debt of the Company consists of a note given for land for the passenger Station in Boston, due June 10, 1855, for $100,000. This is the only debt the Company owes, excepting for some small contracts not yet finished, and two cases of land damage.
